

Two of Italia's Crew Rescued; Malmgren Dead

Captains Mariano and Zappi Were in an Exhausted, Half-Frozen and Starved State—Dr. Malmgren Died a Month Ago—Russian Pilot Stranded.

Aboard Russian Icebreaker Krassin, July 12 (AP).—Missing for the past six weeks, two of the three members of the Italia's walking party were rescued today by the icebreaker Krassin.

The third member, Dr. Finn Malmgren, noted Swedish meteorologist and scientist, was found dead, the victim of the bitter struggle since May 30 against the terrors of the Arctic.

The rescued members of the party were Captain Alberto Mariano, pilot of the ill-fated Italia, and Captain Filippo Zappi, the navigator.

Captains Mariano and Zappi are now aboard the Krassin. Both were in an exhausted, half-frozen and starved state when they were snatched from what for weeks had seemed certain death.

Dr. Malmgren died a month ago, but his two companions, faithful to their dead comrade, had kept his body and this was taken aboard the Krassin today.

The Russian icebreaker, as soon as it had rescued the two Italians, again turned its prow toward the east and began its weary round of battering the ice floes in an effort to reach the men under Lieutenant Vigiorelli's marooned near Fovyn Island off Northeast Land.

Mariano and Zappi said that they had given up hope in what seemed to them their last agonizing moments in the icebound world that had hemmed them in for so many days when suddenly the soviet airplane appeared.

New Hope Upon Seeing Plane
Startled by the roar of the motors coming out of the vast silence, the two men said that they leaped to their feet and waved frantically to the flier who circled above them. A new hope for life surged through them and from that moment until the Krassin succeeded in making its way close to them through 20 miles of ice-packed sea, they felt that they were safe.

Chukhnovsky reported that the undercarriage of his machine had been damaged in landing and asked that assistance be sent to him to repair this.

While the Italia's walking party was rescued, the Russian airman Chukhnovsky and four others in his plane, who first reported sighting the missing men yesterday, himself was stranded on North-East land.

The Russian plane was damaged in making a landing on the ice, but the crew was able to reach land and it was considered that they were in a position of safety.

There has been some doubt as to the identity of the three men sighted by Chukhnovsky, but this was cleared up by today's dispatch specifically identifying the group as that of Dr. Malmgren, Chukhnovsky, in his report, has expressed the belief that it was the Malmgren group, but there was some feeling that the men might have been the Alpine Chausseur Captain Sora and two Norwegian guides who have been missing on the ice field for many weeks.

Russian Reported Stranded.
Moscow, July 12 (AP).—Another tropical twist was given to the noble rescue efforts today with news that the Russian Pilot Chukhnovsky and four companions were stranded near Northeast Land after having discovered the walking party of the Italia and giving directions for its rescue.

Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian expedition on board the icebreaker Krassin, sent a complete report on the discovery of the Malmgren group yesterday. The report was as follows:

"A plane piloted by Chukhnovsky with Strande, Shelagin, Alekseev and the Movie Operator Blushtein aboard took off the search for the Vigiorelli group at 4:30 p. m., July 10. Circling twice, the plane disappeared in the direction of Karl Island. At 5:30 p. m., the plane reached the island without seeing the faintest sign of the Vigiorelli camp. Proceeding further and flying low, Chukhnovsky at 6:45 suddenly discovered the Malmgren group of three huddled together on a small, sharp-edged iceberg. Two of the men stood waving flags while the third lay prostrate.

"Circling five times, Chukhnovsky learned, but due to heavy fog did not succeed in reaching the Krassin. Radio contact with Chukhnovsky ceased at 8:15 p. m., and it was not until 10:30 a. m., on July 11 that Chukhnovsky radioed he had been forced to land a mile or two south-west of Cape Piaton, being unable to find the precise location on account of fog.

"The crew has two weeks' supplies of food, weapons and ammunition. Chukhnovsky urged the Krassin to rush to the rescue of the three unfortunate, who apparently were in a desperate position."

Motorcycle Hit Auto.
Charles Koury of Malden reported to the police early Wednesday evening that while he was driving his motorcycle on Clinton Avenue he collided with an automobile driven by A. J. Moynihan who was turning in the driveway at 289 Clinton Avenue. The motorcycle was quite badly damaged.

Henry W. Otis Dead at 83 Years

Well Known Contractor Who Erected Many Public Buildings and Churches Spent Entire Life in Kingston—Served in Navy During Civil War.

Henry W. Otis, 83 years old, widely known building contractor, died Wednesday evening in this city, where he had resided all his life. He had been in failing health for a long time. Few men were better known than he and during his active career as a contractor he erected many of the public buildings in the city, including the state armory, the City Home, the Y. M. C. A., the American cigar factory, the Cornell building and the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. Interment in Wilkewick Cemetery.

Mr. Otis is survived by three daughters, Cynthia, wife of Richard Outwater of Greenwich, Conn.; Ella, wife of Lewis Brown of this city; and Myra, wife of the late Frank J. Holmes of Upland, California; and one son, Burt D. Otis, of Geneva, N. Y. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Mr. Otis was born in Kingston, May 19, 1845, and received his education in the public schools and old Kingston Academy. At sixteen years of age he commenced learning the trade of mason and builder with his father, and when nineteen years old he enlisted in the United States Navy for service during the Civil War. He served in the North Atlantic Squadron, chiefly on picket duty on the Roanoke river and Albemarle Sound; part of the time on the flagship Shamrock and later on the Arctica, from which he was honorably discharged in October, 1865.

Succeeded Father in Business.
Returning to Kingston he went to work for his father as foreman and continued in that position until his father retired in 1866, when he assumed full charge of the business, which consisted of general contracting and building.

During the years he was engaged in the business he erected most of the public buildings in the city, including the armory, the City Home, many of the public school buildings, several churches, including the Rondout Presbyterian Church; also the Old Men's Home and the Vassar gymnasium at Poughkeepsie; a public school at New Hamburg and a lighthouse at Hudson as well as many others along the Hudson river.

Mr. Otis also had the $300,000 contract for building the extensive carport works for A. T. Stewart at Glenham; a large contract for the West Shore Railroad at Newburgh, together with the passenger station of the West Shore Railroad at Kingston.

The old Academy of Music on East O'Reilly street, the site of which is now occupied by the Central Fire Station, was also built and for a number of years conducted by Mr. Otis.

Served as City Assessor.
Politically Mr. Otis was a Republican and had served the city as assessor. He was one of the founders of the Homebuilders' Building and Loan Association of this city and he had always served as a director of the organization. For many years Mr. Otis and his family resided on Albany Avenue, where he had erected a handsome residence.

For many years Mr. Otis had been an active member of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church.

Two People Hurt By Automobiles

A woman and a boy were slightly injured Wednesday evening when knocked down by automobiles here, according to reports filed with the police department.

David Smith of Linderman Avenue reported that while driving on that street Joseph M. Bruno, 4 years old, of 140 Linderman Avenue, ran from behind a parked car in front of his car and was knocked down. The boy's head was bruised, but he was not seriously hurt.

Sam Salinsky of 98 Hasbrouck Avenue reported that his car had knocked down Mrs. Fannie Middleman of 67 Hasbrouck Avenue, bruising her left leg. He said that Mrs. Middleman had been at his house and walked out to the driveway as he was taking his car out of the garage. The woman was struck by the bumper on the car and knocked down. Her injury was not serious, it was stated.

TRAINER OF RACE HORSES FOUND HANGING IN BARN

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP).—For 13 years, Donald Dunbar, 45, had been caretaker and trainer of race horses at the stables of the late Attorney Roddy P. Marshall at Bakerstown, near here. When the nationally known sportsman who had befriended him once had prevented him taking his life, died recently, Dunbar came to the conclusion that the stock would be sold and the farm turned to other hands.

Yesterday he was found hanging in one of the barns.

And last night Mrs. Marshall said she had no intention of selling the stock or the farm.

Patronage Probe Before Grand Jury

Two Hundred Mississippi Postmasters Gather for Federal Investigation—Congressman Charges Jobs Were Sold Like Bales of Cotton.

Biloxi, Miss., July 12 (AP).—As approximately 200 Mississippi postmasters gathered here today for a federal grand jury investigation of patronage, seventeen talesmen faced $100 fines each for not putting in their appearance in court yesterday.

Judge E. R. Holmes, presiding over federal court for the southern district of Mississippi, who held the court in session yesterday for an hour awaiting the arrival of prospective jurors and then adjourned until nine o'clock today, announced that unless the absentees offered good and sufficient reasons for not answering the summonses they would be fined.

Here to assist the grand jury in the investigation was Mrs. Mabel Walker Wilfbrandt, assistant United States attorney general, who with her staff of assistants arrived from Atlanta, where a senate committee is investigating disposition of federal patronage in Georgia. Whether the senate committee would come to Biloxi has not been announced.

Charges regarding patronage disposition have been aired recently by the Republican faction headed by Perry W. Howard, negro assistant attorney general and national committeeman from Mississippi, which is opposed by the "Lily-White" group led by George L. Sheldon, former governor of Nebraska and now a Mississippi plantation owner. Congressman T. Webster Wilson of Laurel, candidate for the United States senate in opposition to Senator Hubert D. Stephens of New Albany, dropped his speaking campaign to attend the investigation.

"I will submit evidence which in my opinion will substantiate charges I have been making throughout the state that federal jobs have been sold in Mississippi like bales of cotton on the open market," Congressman Wilson said.

Some seventy-five witnesses have been called.

CONFESSES KILLING HER HUSBAND IN SELF DEFENSE

Miami Fla., July 12 (AP).—Mrs. Dorothy Thorkildson, 27, formerly of Troy, N. Y., was being held in the county jail today in connection with the death of her husband, Conrad Thorkildson, 44, at their home here yesterday morning. The authorities said Mrs. Thorkildson made a signed confession in which she admits killing her husband in self defense after he had fired a shot gun at her.

The body of the husband was found by officers under a bale of hay and rubbish in a bedroom of the home after she had surrendered and told of the killing. She told the officers that she and her husband had experienced domestic financial difficulties. The Thorkildsons came to Miami from Albany, N. Y., two years ago.

The police said Mrs. Thorkildson told them she was unable to remember what she had used as a weapon.

WILL PROTECT BREMEN FROM SOUVENIR HUNTERS

Quebec, Que., July 12 (AP).—A detail of Quebec Provincial Police has been ordered to Greenly Island to protect the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen from souvenir hunters, who already have stripped the craft of some of its parts.

Decision to send the Provincial Police was made as a result of an appeal from Mechanic Thibault of the Transcontinental Airways, who has been guarding the plane since efforts to fly it out proved unsuccessful.

Thibault, one of the first men to reach the plane after Captain Koehl, Major James Fitzmaurice, and Baron Gunther von Huenselander landed there last March on completion of their trans-Atlantic flight, told provincial authorities he had had trouble protecting the plane and had been threatened with violence by souvenir hunters.

FIRE THREATENED LARGE STOCK OF MILITARY STORES

London, July 12 (AP).—Fire early today threatened a large stock of military stores in Woolwich Arsenal, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the world. Fire engines from practically all parts of London rushed to the scene and the fire brigade of the garrison was turned out to help them.

After an hour's hard work the flames were prevented from spreading from the 200 foot storage shed on the west side of the arsenal to a huge stock of military stores nearby. It was stated that none of the personnel had been injured and that employment would not be interfered with.

CATSKILL BRICKYARD WORKER KILLED BY EXTREME HEAT

The extreme heat which prevailed caused the death of Clyde Johnson, 22, a negro, on Monday afternoon while at work on the brickyard of George W. Washburn at Catskill. He was working stripping a kiln, when seen to fall. Workmen went to his aid but he was dead. He came from Georgia two weeks ago to work on the brickyard.

Union Sick and Aid Society to Give Up Charter

After an Existence of Sixty Years Members Vote to Surrender Charter to State—Treasury Balance to be Divided Among Forty-five Members.

The Union Sick and Aid Society of Kingston, which has been in existence for the past sixty years, at a meeting of the surviving members held at the grocery store of William F. Walter, 52 Broadway, Wednesday evening voted to surrender the charter of the organization to the state.

The society was organized over half a century ago and of late years has not been very active with but few joining its ranks. It was for that reason that it was finally decided to disband. At present there are forty-five members on the roll, and at the meeting Wednesday it was voted to divide the money left in the treasury into that number of equal shares to be turned over to forty-five members.

The present officers of the society are: President, Peter P. Zeel; vice president, Charles Snyder; secretary, Roger Avery; financial secretary, Chris Seitz; treasurer, William F. Walter.

MEARS HOPES TO MAKE TRIP IN 25 DAYS

Tokyo, July 12 (AP).—John Henry Mears, sailing today on the Empress of Russia, with the plane which he and Charles G. D. Collier are using in an attempt to break the around the world travel record, said that they hoped to complete their adventure within 25 days. The present record is 28 days, 14 hours and 36 minutes, held by Edward S. Evans and Linton Wells.

Mears, lauding Collier's ability as a pilot in flying the plane from Cherbourg, France, to Tokyo, said the record they hoped to establish would be beaten only when faster planes are invented.

After leaving the Empress of Russia the travelers will fly from Victoria to Seattle and then to Spokane, where they will take on gasoline. From Spokane they intend to fly to New York in 30 hours, stopping at Chicago en route.

The flyers attended a reception given by the newspaper Asahi and visited the notable sights around the capital.

SEVEN MEN SENTENCED TO DIE FOR MURDER

Eddsville, Ky., July 12 (AP).—Seven men in death cells at the state penitentiary here entered today upon what they expect to be their last 24 hours of life.

All have been sentenced to die for murder. Barring reprieves, a remote consideration, they will be electrocuted between midnight and 1 o'clock the morning of Friday, July 13—tomorrow.

Three are negroes. They will die last. The four white men, three of them little more than boys, will go to the chair first in an order yet to be arranged.

If court instructions are followed exactly, there will be hardly a break in the procession through the death chamber during the hour set for the executions. About eight minutes will be the time allotted for each of the condemned to enter the room, take his place in the chair and be removed.

SEVERAL TRAFFIC CASES IN POLICE COURT HERE

This morning Clarence C. Wall of Syracuse failed to appear in police court to press a charge of reckless driving he had lodged against Frank Krajewski of 66 Third Avenue, and Krajewski was discharged. The arrest followed a collision between their cars on Broadway on July 8.

Louis Roehl of Tilton, arrested by Rudolph Beyersdorfer of Whiteport was discharged and it was announced that the case had been settled. Roehl in backing his car down the East Pierpont street hill on July 4 ran into the fence on the property of Michael Keating at No. 14, and was charged with not stopping to ascertain what damage he had done.

Charles Warhold of Rosendale was arrested at Kingston Point Wednesday charged with soliciting passengers without a license. In police court he was given a suspended sentence.

POPULAR STAR OF EUROPEAN MUSIC HALL KILLS SELF

Paris, July 12 (AP).—Jenny Golder, one of the most popular stars in European music halls, shot herself through the heart last night and died instantly.

Miss Golder was 32 years old and of Australian nationality. Paris had been the scene of her greatest artistic successes in recent years.

The motive for the suicide was not established. She entered the house in which she had her apartment at 7 o'clock and appeared to be in a happy mood. A half an hour later she shot herself. Miss Golder was understood to be subject to neurotic crises.

Ten Days for Intoxication

Found guilty of a charge of public intoxication by Judge Alexander Speers of the town of Ulster, Thomas Connor of East Kingston is serving 10 days in the Ulster county jail.

Raskob Active As New Chairman

Immediately Following His Selection He Appoints Five Vice Chairmen and Designates Chairmen for All Subcommittees.

New York, July 12 (AP).—Determination of the notification dates for its two standard bearers is awaited as the spark that formally will launch the Democratic party into the presidential campaign.

With organization completed, the Democratic camp today found itself fully prepared for battle, having worked out in perfect harmony the difficult problem of selecting those to guide its destiny in the coming fray.

At a forty-five minute meeting and without a dissenting voice, John J. Raskob of Delaware, a leader in the business and industrial world, was chosen by the Democratic National Committee as its new chairman and he was entrusted with broad powers in the mapping out of plans.

Hardly had this decision of the committee been announced late yesterday before Raskob took over with a positive hand the duties of his post. In the space of a few minutes he had appointed five vice chairmen, including two women, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, former governor of Wyoming, and Mrs. Florence Farley, national committeewoman from Kansas, and designated a chairman for all of the subcommittees which will function in the campaign.

Smith's Fight to Change Dry Law.
Further, in his speech of acceptance he brought to the forefront the questions of prohibition and farm relief as two of the issues that must be met on the voting line in the impending fight. In regard to the former he stressed the right of Governor Smith to work for a lawful change in the dry statutes which in the opinion of the party's presidential nominee would be conducive to a change for the better in the prohibition situation.

"If, as a result of careful study," the new chairman said, "he can evolve a plan for the regulation and control of the question in a way that will absolutely prevent the return of the saloon, eliminate bootlegging, with its accompanying evils—graft, corruption and murder—and restore temperate life in our country, then all fair-minded men must admit his right, if not his duty as President, to promote such plan, and to advocate such changes in our laws and constitution as may be necessary for its adoption."

Opposes Muddling.
This statement was greeted with a burst of applause. A few minutes before, Raskob had declared opposition to a muddling campaign and forcibly urged that party speakers devote their efforts to discussion of "constructive policies." He contended that to insure success in November the party had but to convey to the country the knowledge that the people of New York had of Smith and the people of Arkansas of his running mate—Senator Joseph T. Robinson.

Raskob, chairman of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation, said that up to the present he had not been a partisan. He offered as an explanation of his being listed in Who's Who as a Republican, his connection with the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Company, adding that he twice had voted for Woodrow Wilson, and then supported the Republican ticket.

He emphasized in addressing the committee that Governor Smith had announced publicly his approval of the farm plank in the platform drafted by the Houston convention and said that the New York executive is "experienced in this important problem."

Selects Other Lieutenants.
Besides selecting Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Farley as vice chairmen to work with him in the campaign, Raskob also picked Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, N. J., Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, and Scott Ferris of Oklahoma, as his other lieutenants.

He appointed Senator Gerry of Rhode Island to head an advisory sub-committee created by the national body to assist in working out details of the campaign and among other matters confer with the two nominees as to the determination of notification dates.

Raskob also picked Col. Herbert H. Lehman, New York financier, to take the chairmanship of the finance committee, which up to the present has been held by Jesse Jones of Houston, Texas. After choosing Raskob as its new head, the national committee also unanimously re-elected James W. Gerard, of New York, as committee treasurer and Charles A. Greathouse of Indiana, as secretary.

ESCAPES PUNISHMENT BY BUYING NEW SHIRT

Glens Falls, N. Y., July 12 (AP).—It took four policemen to take John Barnes of Troy, a meat cutter employed in a local market, to the police station a few days ago, and they accomplished it only after a hard fight.

One policeman's arm was badly scratched; another's shoulder was bruised and the shirt was torn from a third before the belittled meat cutter was subdued. Arraigned in police court on a charge of intoxication, he was given a suspended sentence on condition that he buy a new shirt for the policeman and then leave town.

Farmer-Labor Selects Norris

Despite His Reported Refusal to Head Any Third Party State—Prohibition Party Discuss Platform Problems.

Chicago, July 12 (AP).—United States Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska today had become an unwilling candidate for the presidency of the United States on the Farmer-Labor ticket.

Despite his reported refusal to head any third party slate, the Nebraska Senator was placed in nomination at last night's session.

For vice president the Farmer-Laborites named Will Verden of Monticello, Ga., a cotton mill owner.

While the Farmer-Labor party was going ahead with the selection of standard bearers, the Prohibition Party, also in session here, centered discussion on platform problems.

With adoption of the platform today, nominations for president and vice president were next in order.

Both Parties Veto Merger.
Possibility of a merger of the Prohibition party and the Farmer-Labor group ended last night when both vetoed the proposal.

Nomination of Verden created a controversy in the Farmer-Labor camp when it was charged that he had operated a non-union plant, and had never been a farmer or laboring man.

The platform of the Farmer-Laborites, adopted before nominations were made, did not make a specific declaration on the prohibition question, but declared for "enforcement of all laws."

Norris's nomination was made after a report had been received from a correspondent who had been directed to ascertain if the Senator would accept. The reply read: "Negative absolute, reconsideration impossible."

Other planks in the Farmer-Labor platform declared for farm relief with equalization fees, abolition of injunctions in labor disputes, public ownership of Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals, scrapping of all armaments, and a policy of non-interference in Latin-American disputes. A deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic was also approved.

No Nomination by Prohibitionists

While the Prohibitionists took no action toward making a candidate for president, the sentiment of leaders was that the party probably would endorse the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, either by direct action or by failure to nominate at all, thus leaving members of the party free to vote for the Republican nominee.

On the liquor question, the Prohibitionists' platform makers stressed their opposition to the methods of the Anti-Saloon League, as manifesting a "false political philosophy." Other planks in the platform which was practically ready for adoption today, included a denunciation of the "power trust." The McNary-Haugen and Boulder Dam bills were favored.

The Prohibition party platform as drafted, also urged reform in judicial procedure, uniform marriage and divorce laws, entrance of the United States into the World Court, and commended election laws of several states.

Negro Slashing Case Adjourned

Mrs. Ernest Kelley Still at Hospital and Unable to Appear in Court—Her Husband Held on Slashing Charge, in County Jail.

Owing to the fact that Mrs. Ernest Kelley's physical condition was such that she was still unable to leave the City of Kingston Hospital to appear in police court today, the hearing of her husband, who is held on a charge of slashing her with a razor on June 24, was adjourned for two weeks, at which it is expected that she will be able to be present in court and testify.

Kelley was arrested in June on a charge of slashing his wife with a razor on the head, face and body. So badly was the wife cut that Dr. Frank A. Johnston had to take many stitches to close the wounds. She is able to sit up in a wheel chair, but is still too weak to leave the hospital.

According to the police Kelley slashed his wife when he found her stopping at 55 Murray street. He informed the police that his reason was that he thought she was too intimate with Frank McCurt, another negro.

Kelley is being held in the county jail for a hearing in police court.

Junior League Tea a Success

The first of the Wednesday afternoon teas given at their headquarters on Wall street by the Junior League, Wednesday, was a great success socially and financially. Mrs. Eloise Lovatt was the capable hostess in charge. Mrs. William A. Warren of Hurley will be the hostess next Wednesday.

Nominated for Notaries

Alisa Elizabeth Reid of New Paltz and Howard Craig Shurtler of 24 Van Buren street, Kingston, have been nominated for notaries public in and for Ulster county by the secretary of state and have been notified by the Ulster county clerk to take the oath of office.

Hoover to Express Farm Relief Views In Acceptance

No Further Statements of Campaign Issues to be Made Until He Accepts Republican Nomination for Presidency—Leaders to Consult Him En Route to California.

Washington, July 12 (AP).—Following his previously indicated policy, Secretary Hoover has met a request for an expression of his views on farm relief with a statement that the issue will be discussed in his speech accepting the presidential nomination.

The request came from William H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, and was identical with one sent also to Governor Smith of New York. Mr. Hoover's reply was made public late yesterday at Indianapolis.

His answer was directly in line with the policy enunciated early in the week by Chairman Work of the Republican national committee, who said that Mr. Hoover would make no further statements on campaign issues until he delivers his speech of acceptance at Palo Alto, Cal.

Will Meet Party Leaders.
Journeying across the continent next week to his California home, Mr. Hoover will receive en route several party leaders and state officials who in some instances will ride with him for short distances.

Anxious to extend hospitality to the presidential nominee of the Republican party, invitations have come from several governors to have Mr. Hoover be their guest. In turn, the nominee has invited some to ride with him as his train proceeds westward.

It is understood the Governor of Wisconsin and the Governor of Minnesota will visit Mr. Hoover on his train and it is also expected that party leaders at various points along the line may be visited by the Secretary.

However, he has frowned on proposals for celebrations or receptions along the route other than the one to be held at San Francisco upon his arrival there at noon July 20. Stops of three or four hours will be made in Chicago and Omaha. At the former place, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be guests of vice president and Mrs. Dawes at their residence in Evanston, Ill.

Significance in Meeting With Dawes.
Significance is attached by some observers here to the Dawes-Hoover meeting. Mr. Dawes did not take an active part in the pre-convention campaign but was regarded as a strong supporter of his friend, Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois. Hoover's outstanding opponent, Mr. Hoover also conferred here yesterday with Otis F. Glenn, Republican senatorial nominee for Illinois.

The itinerary for his trip shows Mr. Hoover will spend both Monday and Tuesday with President Coolidge, leaving the summer White House on the Brule River Tuesday night.

While a large company of newspapermen, photographers and some secretaries will accompany Mr. Hoover, the party is not large enough for a special train and therefore they will travel on a separate train operated as a second section of a regular train.

Must Wind Up His Work.

A new worry has come before the nominee to add to his work in winding up his duties at the commerce department. He must compile the annual report of the department for the fiscal year and this is now receiving some of his attention. When he leaves here, Mr. Hoover intends to have his work as head of the department completed and his desk ready for his successor.

SENATOR DILL AGAINST MODIFICATION OF DRY LAWS.

Spokane, Wash., July 12 (AP).—Announcing his candidacy for reelection, Senator Dill, Democrat, of Washington, today declared his opposition to the position of Gov. Alfred E. Smith on prohibition, but said he agreed with the party leader's stand on water power, farm and labor questions.

Senator Dill said that if reelected he would do everything in his power to prevent modification of the prohibition laws.

Practice Program Hampered by Rain At Pine Camp

Leave Camp Late for Artillery Practice But Arrive on Time After They Reach the Range in Coordination With Airplane—Kingston Outfit Receives Much Praise.

Pine Camp, N. Y., July 10. (Special.)—A heavy rain this morning after a very hot spell, made it more comfortable at Pine Camp, where Kingston members of the 156th Field Artillery are spending a two weeks' camping period. The hampered service practice program of the day. The soldiers did not start for the range on Oliphant Hill, approximately five miles from the camp, until 11:30 a. m., but after they arrived went through firing problems in admirable style. General William F. Schohl of the New York State National Guard and state commander of the American Legion, witnessed the firing, which was done in coordination with an airplane attack, and was much impressed with the Kingston soldiers' performance.

The batteries, according to schedule, leave the gun park at Pine Camp for the range at 7 a. m., but on Tuesday the soldiers were assembled in the mess hall, owing to the rain, and given talks by their commanding officers. Firing problems were explained and daily routine in the camp discussed. Captain E. L. Cashin of Battery A, Captain E. C. Lawson of B and Captain Carlton S. Preston of the Headquarters Battery and Combat Train were the officers who spoke to their respective outfits.

At 11:30 a. m. the caissons, field pieces and cars rolled out of the gun park, drawn by horses, which were well groomed by the drivers of the batteries. The five mile journey to Oliphant Hill, east of Pine Camp, told on some of the soldiers, who were saddle weary at the end of the day. There are but few men who have not accustomed themselves to long rides on horseback. It was no easy time either for the ones who rode the carriages over the rough roads, and through fields filled with holes and tree stumps.

High Explosive Shells Used
With Captain C. N. Behrens in charge it took the detail detachment but a short time to connect the firing line and maintenance section with the observation point, where General Schohl, who has many friends in Kingston, especially among the American Legion men, witnessed the action of the batteries. Major Thurber of the regular army directed the firing problems. The firing was by Captain E. L. Cashin of Battery A and Captain Edward C. Lawson of Battery B. High explosive shells were used, which required sandbag emplacements for the protection of the cannoneers. The men, after loading the 75 millimeter guns, retreated to the emplacements and fired the pieces by means of a lanyard. The distance between the guns and the emplacements was about 20 yards.

After several problems had been fired, the airplanes of the 27th Division Air Service worked in coordination with the artillery. The planes did some observation work and reported to the observation point by radio. After the officers received the word from the aviators, messages were sent to the officers in command of the firing line by means of telephone lines strung by the Combat Train in charge of Captain Carlton S. Preston and Second Lieutenant Ernest Steuding. The lines worked perfectly and the cannoneers after being given the word to fire by commanders made short work of the targets.

Grimes Seeks Radio Improvement
The sending of messages to points on the ground has been working well at Pine Camp. Some of the best radio men in the country are at the reservation and an education is being given the soldiers along the lines of the modern means of communication. A machine is now being perfected by Lieutenant Grimes of the Grimes radio firm, who is at the camp, which eliminates airplane motor noises from messages broadcast from the plane.

Owing to the tardy starting of the service practice the soldiers did not get back to camp until late. They were very tired and dirty after a hard afternoon's work. Refreshing shower baths were enjoyed by the men before supper and the delicious suppers served in the mess halls were relished by the hungry soldiers.

The members of the Headquarters Battery and Combat Train had an ideal menu after their day's work. Mess Sergeant Eddie DuBois planned the meal which was prepared to the queen's taste by First Cook William Joy and Second Cook Harold Hommel of Malden. It consisted of chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, homemade biscuits, ice cream and fresh fruit. There was plenty of everything and Bill Joy saw to it that every man had more than his share. Kingston Outfit Has Model Kitchen.

After the supper there were a goodly number of chicken, some left and Sergeant Francis "Cubby" Joyce saw to it that Sergeant Joan McCabe's dog, who was well supplied with food, was a lover of animals, and his message at the camp, including his great Billy. The dog makes a fine mascot and is being sought by a number of battalions at the camp.

Entertainment With Meals.
Mess Sergeant George Houghtaling, First Cook Joe Myers and Assistant Cook Charles Hicks of Battery A have pleased the soldiers of that outfit with the meals they serve daily. These boys have the mess hall in regular cabinet style. Myers plays the hostess, Houghtaling has a violin which he plays during meals and Hicks goes over big at every meal with his "dancing doll" act. On Sunday Battery A enjoyed a chicken dinner, which the boys prepared in fine fashion. The dinner was greatly enjoyed by all the members of the battery and two guests, Sergeants James McCabe and Paul Chesterson of the regular army, who are instructors at the camp. Both men highly complimented the cooks.

Compliments for Sergeant Roosa.
Sergeant John Roosa is still worried about his horse, Cody. Colonel Khan admires him every day which means that he may take the horse for his mount. Sergeant Roosa gets a great many compliments on the way he keeps his horses. He trained and rode Cody at Madison Square Garden when the mount took first prize as champion walker.

Will Arrive Home Sunday.
The activities of Tuesday were crowned with a dance held at the recreation hall. It was enjoyed by a number of soldiers to the tune of good music. Several bus loads of girls from the Y. W. C. A. and other organizations in Watertown and Carthage visited the dance. Several other events have been planned for the soldiers' enjoyment before they leave Pine Camp for home. The Kingston batteries will entrain at Great Bent Saturday at 7:30 p. m. The soldiers will arrive in Kingston Sunday at 6 a. m.

MILK KEEPS TUNNEY FROM TRAINING DOWN TOO FINE.
Speculator, N. Y., July 12 (P).—Generous doses of milk have kept Gene Tunney from training down too fine for the defense of his title against Tom Heeney at the Yankee Stadium July 26. Although the champion still has two weeks of work, he is now just short of the peak of condition. He weighs 197 pounds, and after a hard workout he is firmer and lighter, the exact weight he intends to carry when he faces Heeney.

Tunney restores the five pounds he loses in the ring every day by drinking three pints of milk after each session. He does not intend to let his poundage drop until the eve of the title bout. He has already reached the point where he must reduce his roadwork. Yesterday he ran only four and one half miles, and today he probably will do even less.

Starting today, the spectators who daily throng about the ring were asked fifty cents to watch the champion cuff his sparring partners, Harold Mays and Billy Vidaback. All the proceeds will be donated to the Little St. James Catholic Church here. Hitherto the training sessions have been free.

The champion has a convincing explanation of his so-called unorthodox training methods.

Tunney gets plenty of sleep and relaxation and conserves the resulting nervous energy by avoiding all worry and eating but two meals daily to aid his digestion. Thus he can extend his energy in the necessary physical effort.

Origin Lost
There are various explanations of the origin of the phrase to "learn by heart." Centuries ago the heart was regarded as the seat of emotions. That which one learned by heart was usually something which made an especial appeal. In other words, one greatly wished to retain the memory of it. The heart was thought to be involved in the process.

Non-Coms Club Holds Banquet

Twenty Members of Local Battery and Regular Army Instructor at Pine Camp Spend Enjoyable Evening in Banqueting and Singing.

Pine Camp, N. Y., July 10. (Special.)—The Non-Coms Club of Battery B, 156th Field Artillery, held a banquet at the Carthage Hotel near Pine Camp Tuesday night, which was thoroughly enjoyed by twenty members and a guest, Sergeant James M. McCabe of the regular army, who is an instructor to the Kingston soldiers. After a sumptuous repast, as First Sergeant Harry Giles put it, had been served, a social time was enjoyed at the hotel before the men returned to Pine Camp.

Captain Edward C. Lawson, one of the best-liked commanders at Pine Camp and who is credited with originating the saying "papa pays," led in the merrymaking. He, First Lieutenant Carlton Eckert and Second Lieutenant Paul E. Barnum, proved good mixers, one of the good reasons for the perfect harmony that exists between the officers and the men of Battery B. Harry Giles proved an exception to the rule that first sergeants are "a pain in the neck" to those under them and not infrequently to commanders by being a regular fellow. He recited "I'm from the Good Ship Montana." In a very dramatic way and joined in singing "Sweet Adeline" with Lieutenant Paul E. Barnum, Sergeant James Gorman and Corporal George W. Johnston.

The quartet without the aid of instrumental accompaniment harmonized well, under the direction of Captain Edward C. Lawson of Battery B. Sergeant William Jordan, who decided the songs to be sung by the quartet, finally induced Dave Kidd, first cook of the outfit, to do his act as a tenor. Second Lieutenant Carlton Eckert complimented the soloist with "No kidding, Kidd, it was great." Battery B has no bugler, owing to Captain Lawson's contempt for sour note tooters, which accounts for Kidd's voice. He has to call his men to mess.

Get Kick Out of Ride.
Not alone did the soldiers get a big kick out of the banquet, which consisted of a steak dinner with all the trimmings, but out of the ride from Pine Camp to Carthage, a distance of about nine miles. The trip was made in a big army truck piloted by Mess Sergeant Vernon Styles. He sure gave the soldiers a very enjoyable ride. Stable Sergeant Port Clark, who knows his spunk place as well as his "hay burners," drove the truck on the homeward-bound trip and proved an exceptionally good chauffeur. Both drivers had to be good in order to handle the big war-time vehicle on the sandy roads in the vicinity of Pine Camp. The ride gave the passengers an example of how transportation of troops was handled during the World War. Sergeant Stanley Cavin acted as guide on his motorcycle.

Judges Chicken Dinners Daily.
Sergeant James M. McCabe, instructor, and member of the regular army, has proven himself to be a real good fellow and is much thought of by every man in the camp. The Kingston soldiers have invited him to every function of enjoyment for they wish him to have the best at all times. His genial manner has made him much sought by the various batteries, who bid for his presence in the mess hall, by putting up excellent meals. He is invited to act as a judge of chicken dinners most every day. He admits picking the best cook is a problem for a more experienced "taster" than he is.

The Banqueters.
The soldiers who enjoyed the banquet and social were as follows: Sergeant James M. McCabe, guest of the Non-Coms; Captain Edward C. Lawson, Second Lieutenant Carlton Eckert, Second Lieutenant Paul E. Barnum; First Sergeant Harry E. Giles, Sergeants William Jordan, Vernon Styles, John M. Clair, Burton Clair, Claud Smith, Stanley Cavin, James Gorman; Corporals Paul C. Howard, Chester Kieffer, Martin Van Aken, Chick Miller, George W. Johnston; First Cook David Kidd; Privates Lewis Van Wagenen, J. P. Osterhoudt and G. J. Kelder.

Texas May Unite With Republicans

Smith Democrats in Movement for Alliance—Smith Supporters Win Initial Skirmish in Court Proceedings.

Dallas, Texas, July 12 (AP).—A movement to effect an alliance between Texas Democrats opposed to Governor Alfred E. Smith and the state Republican organization was under way today with leaders of both factions promising to cooperate. While plans for this alliance were being perfected a test case was started to determine whether names of candidates for state offices who have announced they will not support Governor Smith could be barred from the ballots in the primary election July 28.

Smith supporters yesterday won the initial skirmish in the fight to bar party bolters from the primary ballots when District Judge A. M. Reed denied an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the Cameron county Democratic committee to recognize Thomas B. Love as a candidate for lieutenant governor. The committee declined to place his name on the ballots after he announced he would not vote for the New York governor. Love is a leader of the constitutional or "boose dry" Democrats, who sought to prevent the nomination of Governor Smith.

Judge Volney W. Taylor, chairman of the Cameron county committee, told chairmen of several committees that informed them they would await the outcome of the Love appeal before making up the primary ballots. In advocating the Democrat-Republican alliance, former Governor O. B. Colquhoun, a constitutional Democratic leader, proposed to substitute anti-Smith Presidential electors for the Republican electoral ticket. He said such a state probably would be drafted at a meeting of Constitutional Democrats here Tuesday next.

Boy Scouts Finance Operation. Springfield, Mass., July 1 (AP).—An operation financed by the savings of a Boy Scout Troop of which he is a member is expected to restore to perfect health Henry King, of Palmer, a 15 year old cripple. ## Heavy Rain Was Of Local Nature

The unusually heavy rain which fell in the lower section of the city Wednesday afternoon was of a local nature, much less water falling in the up-town section of the city. South of Kingston the rain did not extend any great distance and at Ulster Park but a few drops fell. North of Kingston there was very little rain at the time Kingston was receiving the downpour. So little rain fell up the Ulster & Delaware that the Esopus creek did not rise and the water in the Ashokan reservoir is gradually falling as the stream drops. At present there is practically no water going over the spillway except what seeps through the flash-board. The rainfall Wednesday in the Ashokan territory was negligible.

At present there is no water being admitted to the Ashokan reservoir from the Gilboa tunnel and all waste water is being permitted to overflow from Gilboa over the dam. As soon as the Ashokan reservoir falls to a level which will permit the Gilboa water to be turned on without waste, the Shandaken tunnel will probably again be opened to take care of the water which is now flowing to waste over Gilboa dam.

"Dry" Charges Dismissed Here

At an adjourned hearing before U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly at his office in the Cordis Building, Wall street, on Wednesday afternoon, the charges of possession of liquor made by federal enforcement officers some time ago against Jacob Robinson, Frank Terry, David Colville and Nazzarino Copriotto of Hudson were dismissed. There was no appearance on the part of the prosecution to prove the violation so Commissioner Connelly on motion of Judge Mies of Hudson, attorney for the defendants, ordered a dismissal of the complaints.

Killed by Bolt While Fishing

Wolfeboro, N. H., July 12 (AP).—Harold Leslie Hamm, 21 year old Dartmouth football star of Arlington, Mass., is dead today, a victim of lightning.

Hamm, who was expected to be one of the mainstays of the green team next fall, was killed yesterday afternoon while fishing from a wharf on Lake Winnepesaukee during one of the most severe electrical storms ever experienced in this vicinity.

The Dartmouth fullback had been a counselor at a boys' camp. A bolt struck the water a few feet from the wharf where Hamm was sitting and skipped along the surface of the lake, striking the steel rod which he held in his hand.

Hamm was a sophomore last year. He won a place on the varsity team through the illness of Dick Black, a regular. In the Harvard game when the Green swamped the Crimson, Hamm proved a good punter and one of the best defensive backs in recent Dartmouth football history.

TOM TOMS BEAT NEAR CEDAR ISLAND LODGE.

Superior, Wis., July 12 (AP).—Tom Toms beat near Cedar Island Lodge last night, but not loud enough for President Coolidge to hear had he been awake.

A band of Chippewa Indians in feathered headdress and beaded buckskin garb went through their various tribal dances at Winnebago.

President Coolidge had nothing more on today's program than additional battles with Brule trout. He has not missed a day on the river, other than Sundays since he arrived about four weeks ago and plainly shows the results of the rest. The president is not due at the executive offices until tomorrow.

Residents at the head of the lakes went forward with appointment of committees and other plans for the reception of Secretary Herbert Hoover next Monday.

HOOVER AND SMITH PLATES ON THE FAMILY CAR.

Northampton, Mass., July 12 (AP).—To maintain peace in a family in which the wife is a Smith booster and the husband a Hoover supporter the family car carries a Hoover plate on front and a Smith plate in the rear. When the machine, registered in New York, passes through Northampton the husband was asked why the plates were not for the same candidate. He indicated preservation of domestic harmony was the reason. The family was not identified.

Remembered It

An absent-minded man called upon his equally absent-minded physician and they passed a pleasant evening together, playing checkers and exchanging anecdotes. Finally came the hour for parting and the visitor exclaimed:

"Doctor, I had some errand here. Oh, yes, now I recall it. Our maid has fainted and we want you to see her right away."

"That reminds me," replied the doctor. "Your wife wanted you on the telephone a while ago. The maid died."—American Legion Monthly.

Moon's "Rays" a Puzzle

Mysterious bright "rays" observed whenever telescopes are pointed at the moon are puzzling astronomers, says H. G. Tomkins, English scientist in Popular Science Monthly. He is building a special reflecting telescope in an effort to determine their significance by photographing them at all possible angles. That they may be light lines of whitish dust, shallow cracks in the ground, or sulphur streaks from extinct volcanoes has been suggested.

So successful was this costume it started a movement which is being taken up by women everywhere.

On Rearing Children
from CRIB TO COLLEGE
Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN."
The Magazine for PARENTS

Every child should be assigned home duties at an early age so that he may feel a part of the family unit, sharing in its responsibilities.

The old-fashioned mother used to throw up her hands in despair and terror when it became clear that a tantrum was brewing and cry, "Oh, he's got Grandfather Jones' temper! I knew it would turn up somewhere. But nowada's Grandfather Jones' bad temper is a excuse. The nervous, excitable child is more readily subject to rage than the naturally placid, youngster, of course. But the modern mother knows that training alone will help the child to master himself.

Even the milk of cow or mother may not have a liberal supply of vitamins C, and if sunlight is lacking, or the food is not green and fresh, it may be inadequate. Then oranges and tomatoes supply the need. Egg yolk adds iron, phosphorus and vitamin A, for blood and body cells and for growth. Spinach, too, adds iron, —the one element that the milk is a little short on—and all three vitamins, A, B, and C.

Salt shakers, with some pebbles inside, make most wonderful rattles for the baby; measuring cups are useful to bite on, and a tea-ball jingles entrancingly on the end of its chain. Sheets of crisp paper are interesting to shake and crumple, as are magazines, if baby is past the stage of putting everything into his mouth.

The recognition of rhythm is the first step in understanding and enjoying music. Let the tiny child living in the country sense the regular beat in the chirp of the crickets, the droning of locusts, the timed repetition of the meadow lark's call, the crunch crunch of wagon wheels, and the chugging of the motor boat engine. If you yourself have never noticed these things before, now is the time for you to begin, with him.

Or, if he lives in the city, you can make use of ticking clocks, footsteps on the pavement, church bells and automobile engines. You are expected to do nothing except feel the beat yourself, and nod, or clap, or tap the foot, or beat time, or pat his baby hand, or sway the body, expressing the pulsation in any way you prefer, and encouraging him to do the same. It is a game to be played whenever the mood is right for it.

A baby of nine months will jiggle up and down in his baby carriage in perfect time to a simple tune.

Long Silk Lace Mitts Worn at Paris Races

Long mitts of silk lace which reach almost to the shoulder and look like long light sleeves are offered by several dressmakers as a suggestion for the formal costumes worn at the Paris race courses on sunny gala days.

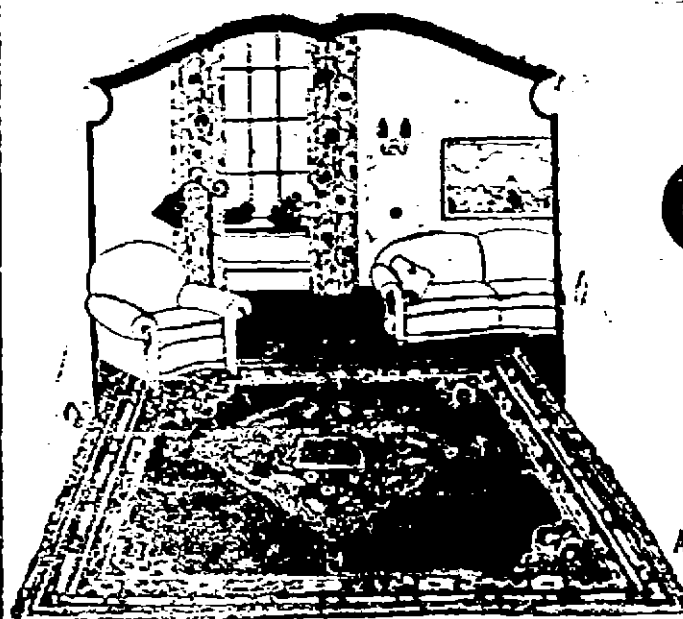

The mitts come several inches short of the shoulder and permit women who have acquired sunburn at beaches to display their brown arms without wearing sports costumes, which are taboo at smart afternoon events this summer.

The lace gloves are worn only with lace dresses and usually there is a sleeveless three-quarter-length lace coat with the costume.

Cleanor Gunn Says

New York—Colored shoes, semi-crepe and otherwise, are the latest choice in costume jewelry.

Small patterned woollens are the latest fabrics for early autumn coats and cloth dresses.

Prices are definitely, with much in the lead at smart color events.

The jacket theme is still enlarged for all occasions, including the evening jacket of lace or pearls.

Lines and cottons are making a comeback, and are present at most smart daytime events.

Colored and patterned shoes are a note of considerable interest.

Knitted sports wear is an outstanding feature of the season.

The silk crepe is one of the new sports fabrics, and is effectively used for tennis costumes.

Organdie and net have continued throughout the season, both strongly selling chiffon and georgette.

The bandanna girdle is proving almost as great a favorite as the banana neckline.

SAMSONVILLE

Samsonville, July 12—The Fourth of July celebration was well attended. There was a large crowd both afternoon and evening. Samsonville people were pleased to see so many of their old friends and to have them come and bring their friends with them. Much credit is given the students and it is hoped to have them here again some time in the future. The ladies wish to thank everyone who helped to make the celebration a success.

Miss B. Merrill of Browns Station spent a few days this week with Mrs. W. G. Moore and family.

Mrs. Virgil Shuter remains about the same. Her many friends hope for her recovery.

Mrs. G. D. Alsdorf and baby Roy of Walden, spent a few days with Mrs. Alsdorf's grandparents.

Guskie Beemer of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of her brother, J. Beemer.

Need a Little Color

Still, we must not get rid of too much red. It would be horrible living in an atmosphere of unbroken, pale gray conventionality.—Chicago News.

Predict Mousie Mode Will Soon Be Routed

The march of the mouse costume toward softer and more inviting effects continues, says a Paris fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. Everywhere new followers are added, and before the August openings arrive it is freely predicted that the mousie mode will be entirely and forever routed. Appended are some descriptions of the new Paris summer clothing from which you may glean a definite idea of fashion's newest trends.

Especially Champousmousses are being for her summer sports models, which are classics in smartness through their simple lines. Three-piece sports ensembles have little jackets or varied coats which descend to three-quarters in length with a most decided flare. Some of the daytime coats have full skirts with soft-pleated collars under the full collar at the back. Jersey and velvet surfaced fabrics with diagonal ribbed weaves and gold threads are important, as well as this weekend in wool velveteen.

Micelle Groult is showing about twenty new summer models in which plain velvet, black satin and tones of blue and black combined with light or bright colors predominate. The silhouette is not changed fundamentally, but the chic Parisienne highly approves the elegance of the design in which bodices are easy in line and skirts are invariably voluminous through deep flounces in overskirt effects made to give U or V-shaped yokes. A most decided note is that of side-front fullness in skirts.

Drecolle does not change the silhouette but presents clothes which are exceedingly easy to wear, such as two-piece jersey sports costumes with silk kerchief scarfs, wherein the ends slip through a slide made in colored composition. Skirts are fitted, asymmetrical, side V yoke polka in skirts are emphasized, and the coat-frock continues as an important part of the collection.

Molynaux designs an important "between-seasons" collection which emphasizes sports dresses—a number with coats—wash or beach dresses in which thin fine woollens, washable silks, including men's shirts and Rhodie's kashatole with embroidered designs, and natural linen are very important media.

Redfern has a summer collection in which the underarm motif is featured through bands and plaits, at one side only, with the other side plain and straight. Coats have broad, loose bands which staircase around the coat and sometimes descend to a sharp point in back.

Taffeta Hats Regarded as Smart Little Affairs

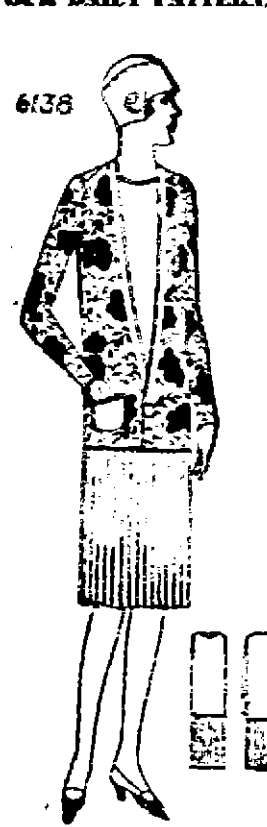

The taffeta hat is recognized as a very smart little affair and fetching in the extreme. The thoughtful woman who owns one realizes that it is a fair weather friend and perishable in a downpour. Yet it serves its purpose of chic for many wearings.

One of the softest black taffeta with fitted crown, dips its brim low at the front and turns sharply up at the back to reveal a facing of white peanut straw. Two downy white feathers curl softly back of the right ear.

Tiebacks of Organdie Flowers. Dainty work that can be done at home consists of organdie tiebacks for curtains in the shape of pastel tinted flowers.

Used Frigidaire for sale. Low price. Call Mr. Tongue, Kingston 1400.—Advertisement.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

A Very Attractive Jacket Ensemble.

6135. Here the Jacket is of embroidered linen and the Dress of silk crepe, with which material the jacket is lined and faced. One could use broadened silk for the jacket, and crepe for the dress, and jacket facings. Tweed, rajah or jersey are also good for this design. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 35 yards.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes for misses and small women, 16, 18 and 20 years. To make as illustrated for an 18 year size will require 3 yards for the dress and 1 1/2 yard for the jacket, of 39 inch material, together with 3/4 yard of contrasting material for pocket and facing on the jacket.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1928 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

PLUTARCH.

Plutarch, July 12.—Helen, the infant daughter of Mrs. Adolph Lillberg, died Wednesday, July 4. The funeral was held Friday at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Elliott. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Mrs. Richard Schneider and Mrs. Fred Palmatier sang a duet "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The Rev. Arthur T. Craig of New Paltz officiated. Interment was in Lloyd Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mackey spent Sunday with relatives in Kingston.

John Van Nostrand has been sick for a few days, but is now able to return to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Winnerholm were out of town callers Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary M. Palmatier is confined to her home by illness.

The dance held at the home of Alexander Stumatz for the benefit of the Plutarch fire department was largely attended and the sum of $25 was cleared.

A number of people from here attended the block dance at New Paltz

Wednesday evening, July 4. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmatier spent Sunday with Mrs. Palmatier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lanson Decker of New Paltz.

There's life and gayety and chic in Arch Preserver Shoes

LET THEM BRIGHTEN YOUR SUMMER VACATION

STEP out buoyantly every morning in stunning Arch Preserver Shoes, and the day will know no end to your happy activity.

Fashion-wise women choose Arch Preserver Shoes for every hour of the day because they are the only shoes that match the mode for smartness, yet give you these exclusive hidden comfort features that keep your feet feeling as good as they look:

A concealed, built-in arch bridge, of patented size and shape, that takes all strain off the long arch of the foot and promotes an easy, graceful carriage.

A specially modeled sole that supports the metatarsal arch.

A flat inner sole, crosswise, that prevents pinching or derangement of sensitive foot nerves, muscles and blood-vessels, thereby eliminating a common cause of nervous fatigue.

An exclusive method of fitting that models the shoe correctly to the high smooth curve of your arch and instep, and gives you the same comfort as if your foot were unclad.

Whether you're walking or dancing, outdoors or in, there's no hour of the day that hasn't its Paris-inspired Arch Preserver Shoe to make the occasion more perfect.

Let us show you some of the latest styles, just arrived.

...now read what this First Avenue woman says:

"I used to use bar soaps on washday and even with hard scrubbing my clothes never turned out so white as they do now that I let Rinso soak the dirt out for me!"

"You don't even have to boil clothes now, they always come out of the safe, creamy Rinso sud so snowy and sweet!"

"Rinso really is a bargain, because a little does so much. That's why I use it for dishes and all my cleaning."

MRS. AGNES G. BAXTER,

Saves hands, too

In letter after letter women tell us, "Rinso saves the hands." There never was a soap that made washday so easy! "No need for boiling now," thousands tell us. "Economical—a little goes so far," others write. And the makers of 34 leading whitening machines say, "Use Rinso for safety, and for This safe granulated soap is all you need—no bar soaps, chips or powders. Get the big household package now—and follow the easy directions on the box."

Try "Canada Dry" today with lunch

This summer weather has a way of getting hold of you just about lunch time and taking away your appetite. You don't want much. But you want something. "More to be eating," you say, "than because I'm hungry."

Now here is a suggestion. Order a light lunch with a green salad. Just plain lettuce with dressing or something with fruit in it.

And then, as a dessert, drink a bottle of "Canada Dry."

You'll be surprised how it refreshes you. Its subtle flavor instantly appeals to you. Its dryness quenches your thirst. Its mellowness simply sets you right with the weather and the world in general. Because "Canada Dry" contains finest quality Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients—because it does not contain biting capicum (red pepper)—"Canada Dry" is really good for you in hot weather. Try it with luncheon today and see!

Plebe Class Makes Progress

Popularity of Military Training in United States Results in Phenomenal Progress by New Class of Cadets at West Point Military Academy.

West Point, N. Y., July 12.—(Special).—Phenomenal progress in military drill has been made by the new class of 383 cadets who entered the Military Academy at West Point on July 2, according to Major General William R. Smith, superintendent. This is a result of the popularity of military training throughout the nation as approximately 59.5 per cent of the plebe class have served either in the Regular Army, National Guard, Citizens' Military Training Camps or Reserve Officers' Training Corps. A number of men left the Navy to enter the Military Academy.

The Regular Army is well represented in the new class, twenty-five of its members having served an apprenticeship in the ranks, learning the mysteries of kitchen police and fatigue call. They have acquired a first hand knowledge of the enlisted man's psychology which will be of great value when they leave the academy wearing a lieutenant's golden bars. Many men in this group received their appointments from the Regular Army quota of vacancies which was allotted by Congress. Other have Congressional appointments.

Sons of Regular Army officers and enlisted men are also in the ranks.

Forty-two youths ranging from sons of sergeants to major generals having entered.

Represent Other Nations.

Chuan Kamhu and Bun Praband from Siam are the only representatives of foreign nations in the new class. Each of these young men has spent nine years in the Royal Military Academy of Siam and three years in the Shenandoah Valley Academy. They have been assigned to the Fourth Company of Cadets.

Porto Rico is represented by Jan A. Nadal of San Juan and Benjamin J. Webster is from the territory of Hawaii. The Philippine Islands is not represented.

The 383 embryo generals have been divided into six companies. Lt. Col. Campbell B. Hodges, Commandant of Cadets, has placed Major T. A. Terry in charge of their training. Regular Army officers are in direct charge of each company and are assisted by first classmen who will be graduated next June.

July Instruction Limited.

Instruction during July has been limited to the fundamentals of military drill and rifle marksmanship. Drill call sounds at 7:50 a. m. and from then until 3:40 p. m. life for the plebe varies between drill and lectures. Every afternoon from 4 p. m. until 5 p. m. they engage in various athletic activities.

Demerits will not be noted on the permanent records of the new cadets until August 2. General Smith having continued a policy on this important matter which has been in effect for some time. Orders have also been issued directing that one-third of the demerits received during the first year be deducted from the record.

Because of the strenuous training the plebes are undergoing, they are required to be in bed at 9:30 p. m. every night, taps sounding at that hour. The entire class is quartered in the South Barracks.

General Smith has authorized the plebes to receive visitors and relatives in the visitors' room on Saturday evenings and evenings preceding holidays from immediately after supper at 6:30 p. m. until tattoo at 9:15 p. m.

BLISTER RUST MENACE MAY BE CONTROLLED.

White pine and sugar-pine timber in the forests of the United States is valued at $550,000,000, and several million acres of young growth promise future values. These valuable trees are threatened with destruction. In Miscellaneous Publication 22-M, "Protect White Pine from Blister Rust," the United States Department of Agriculture pleads for their protection from the deadly blister rust, now widely prevalent from Pennsylvania northward, from Michigan to Minnesota, and in Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

White pine blister rust is a fungus disease of foreign origin, which has the peculiarity of being unable to pass the infection from one white pine to another. An infected white pine is only capable of infecting the various varieties of currants and gooseberries, wild and tame. One currant or gooseberry may infect another currant or gooseberry, and from these bushes the blister rust spores travel on the wind to pines, but are effective only over comparatively short distances. These currant and gooseberry bushes are of comparatively slight economic importance, and the wild varieties have more the nature of weeds. Blister rust can be checked and the damage to the white pine eliminated by eradicating all currant and gooseberry bushes in the vicinity of white pine or sugar pine trees. The department says: "When the blister rust appears in a locality, owners of white pine should promptly apply control measures to prevent loss from this disease. Any white pine stand can be protected from blister rust by uprooting all currants and gooseberries within infecting distance (300 feet) of the pines."

The European or cultivated black currant is a special case, because it is more susceptible to blister rust than other currants or gooseberries. The department "is opposed to the growing of this plant in the United States, and recommends its elimination in states where white pines are important forest trees."

Miscellaneous Publication No. 22-M is illustrated, and shows in natural colors the progress of the disease from an infected pine to a wild gooseberry and from this to the pines. It is available for free distribution on application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT MUST BE KEPT CLEAN

Ithaca, N. Y., July 12.—Toasters, waffle irons and electric grills must be kept as clean as other cooking utensils if they are to give good service, says the New York state college of home economics. The nickel parts on these utensils are easily cleaned. While the surface is still bright, go over with a cloth dipped in warm sudsy water and then wring quite dry; then wipe the nickel parts to prevent a streaked appearance. If the nickel surface has become cloudy, clean it with a cloth wrung from a solution of one teaspoonful of ammonia soap powder, to two quarts of lukewarm water. Then give the surface a careful wiping.

Crumbs should be dusted from an electric toaster after each time it is used. For this purpose, a long soft-bristled pastry brush is convenient. If the toaster is washed with soap and water, the utmost care must be taken not to wet the electric coils.

The waffle iron, after each use, should cool with the grids open. Then the nickel should be cleaned. The inside of cast aluminum never needs washing, but, where grease and dust have collected, dry mineral wool may be used to remove them. In the care of any of these electrical devices, it is wise to pay attention to the directions which the company has issued with them.

The Baby Giraffe

At the time of its birth the giraffe measures six feet from its hoofs to the top of its head.

A Word to Wise Housewives

If you perform household tasks by hand, that could be better and more quickly performed by electricity, you are valuing your labor at only two or three cents per hour.

Why spend your time and exhaust your energy over steaming wash tubs and hard turning wringers, when an electric washing machine can do the work for you, swiftly and easily, for less than 2c an hour?

Or why spend hours sweeping and beating rugs, from living room to attic bedroom, when an electric vacuum cleaner can clean them for you, quickly and dustlessly, for 1c an hour?

This and other drudgery is so wasteful and so unnecessary. Electricity can banish it from your home and give you in place added comforts, greater leisure, protection to health, and increased general well-being of the whole family.

The new rate reduction, effective on all customers' bills rendered on and after July 15th, offers you an opportunity to secure these benefits, at moderate cost, through more liberal use of electricity in your home.

470 Revocations And Suspensions

Albany, N. Y., July 12.—In the two weeks ended July 5, Charles A. Harnett, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, reported as reported 470 certificates of automobile registration and licenses to drive. There were 55 revocations and 201 suspensions in New York city and vicinity and the remainder and 10 suspensions in other parts of the state.

In the counties of the Albany district there were 40 revocations and 20 suspensions. The revocations included three for failure to file omnibus bond.

The following residents of Ulster county had their licenses revoked or suspended:

Revocations.

Tommy Thomas, 52 Green street, Kingston, driving while intoxicated.

John Tomashan, 114 West Main street, Ellenville, driving while intoxicated.

Segunda Vela, Saugerties, leaving scene of accident without reporting.

Suspensions.

George Netting, 29 Grove street, Kingston, unlicensed operator.

Michael Divo, Mount Marion, improper use of plates.

Anthony Smith, Highland, charged with leaving scene of accident without reporting.

Knights Coming For Celebration

Grand Knight Wingert of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, has received word from various councils along the Hudson river that they will send delegations to attend the exercises to be held in the K. of C. Home on Sunday afternoon.

State Deputy Walter A. Lynch of New York city, who is to be the principal speaker at the fifteenth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the building, will arrive in Kingston Sunday afternoon, when a reception will be tendered to him by the grand knights of the Hudson valley. Mr. Lynch is a very able speaker and will have an important message to deliver to those present. In regard to the activities of the Knights of Columbus in New York state for the ensuing year.

The meeting will be called at 2:30 o'clock when there will be music and speaking, closing with a grand reunion of members, of the council, past and present.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Static disturbed but could not bar out all the stations Wednesday evening and reception from the Big Four was good after 7:30, provided you had a good receiving set and knew how to use it. The Griswold Sisters at WGY gave an amusing program, including a new and soul uplifting anthem entitled "Mary Had a Stick of Gum," with a chorus, "Chaw, Chaw." Amelia Earhart featured the Chrysler program and the toothbrush troubadours were good, as usual. After that static picked up again.

Reception this morning was unusually clear and strong.

COMPLAINS THAT UPTOWN THEATRE IS CLOSED

July 9, 1923.

To the Editor of The Freeman:

Sir:—May we voice through The Freeman the many and loud complaints over the closing of our uptown theatre, especially as downtown has two theatres and uptown now has none. Many of us come many miles by the busses to shop in the large department stores which all happen to be uptown. After shopping it is for many, out of their way as well as being an extra expense to go downtown to the theatre. More than this, where there are several children in a family under twelve years of age how many parents feel they can pay twenty-five cents for each child which the Broadway charges?

Heavens, just as we think we have something, it disappears.

UP AND OUT OF TOWN.

Puzzles Parliamentarians

When a parliamentary standing committee in London, England, was considering the national health insurance bill they were considerably perturbed by the introduction of the word "eleemosynary" in Clause 4, referring to "donations or subscriptions of an eleemosynary character" and a dictionary definitely had to be called for.

Colored Stockings Old

That colored stockings are really much older fashioned than most people think, is the declaration of a historian. He says that in the fourteenth century hose of two colors, white and black, red or blue, were in vogue. They were made of cloth because knitted stockings were not known until 200 years later.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—Owners of a billion dollars or more are aboard the Steamship Majestic, enroute to Europe. That's Wall Street's guess as to the total wealth of J. P. Morgan, his partner, Charles Steele, Andrew W. Mellon and his brother, W. L.

S. S. President Roosevelt—Athletes from the sun-kissed state are usually big fellows, but whence come the tiniest representatives of Uncle Sam en route to Amsterdam? California, too. Donald Blessing, Cox of the Golden Bears' crew, weighs 107, including his powerful lungs. Petite Dorothy Poston, 12, coast diver, is the baby aboard.

Philadelphia—Smith Reynolds, heir to tobacco millions, is an accomplished aviator at 16. He flew from Winston-Salem, N. C., with a chum, A. B. Taylor, also 16. He has been flying for two years.

New York—"The Ladder," a play dealing with reincarnation, which has cost Edgar B. Davis, Texas oil man, something like $1,000,000 since October, 1926, is going to be still more expensive. When admission became free last Thanksgiving quite a few people went to see it. Now tickets are 75 cents. The first audience after charges were resumed totaled 75, including the ushers.

Nottingham, England—As raisers of thoroughbred cattle, King George and the Prince of Wales are good equestrians. If the awards at the show of the Royal Agricultural Society are criteria. Not one blue ribbon did father and son get.

New York—It will be expensive for grandchildren of Mrs. Prebe W. Davol, colonial dame, to marry some body not approved by the rest of the family. One half of such grandchild's inheritance would be forfeited by her will to Harvard University.

Wildwood, N. J.—A controversy over birds at the Wildwood Golf Club is ended. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawk, who had their home in a tree bordering a fairway, attracted much attention. Some golfers wanted them ousted. Many nature lovers objected. A caddy looking for a lost ball found it with six others in the nest. Now there is unanimity about the necessity for exile.

La Paz, Bolivia—Ample skirts and split trousers worn by Indians since the days of the Spanish conquests are to be forbidden. The government has decreed that the entire population must wear dress of European style beginning October 6.

White Plains, N. Y.—Thirty years ago Clemence Smith bought a horse and rode away into the night. He never has been heard from. Now Mrs. Smith, aged 64, is seeking a divorce.

TWO WORLD'S AIRPLANE RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Philadelphia, July 12 (P)—Two world's airplane records were broken here this morning by a Navy seaplane piloted by Lieutenant A. W. Gordon, according to an announcement authorized by Commander R. E. Weyerbacher, in charge of the Naval Aircraft factory.

The first was the world's endurance record for seaplanes carrying 2,000 kilograms "pay load" and the second the world's range record under similar conditions. The endurance record was broken at 3:23 a. m., eastern daylight savings time and the range record at 3:43 a. m. Gordon, in the Navy's XPN12 type AT383, took off from the Navy yard at 3:58 p. m., yesterday, eastern daylight time. With him was Chief Boatswain E. C. Rieber, who was with Commander Richard E. Byrd in 1925 on the McMillan North Greenland expedition.

Sails Long in Use

On a painted Greek vase of about 600 B. C. there is a ship represented with a sail, a single passenger and a helmsman. The pictures on coins of Phoenician ships are cruder than might be expected in view of the great reputation that people had as sailors. But the ships of Tarshish made many a successful trip to Britain and Spain for tin and other metals.

NEW PALTZ

New Palts, July 12.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Newkirk of Libertyville were recent callers in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Kite entertained guests over the week end.

W. H. Seals spent Saturday in Kingston on business.

L. L. Sagendorf spent the week out of town on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Jansen have been entertaining out of town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Yorks of Orange county were week-end guests of their son, Fred Yorks and family.

Miss Agnes Quick has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Klyne, in Gardiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newkirk and family spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dero.

James Patterson is ill at his home in Libertyville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seals are to move to Washington, D. C., soon.

They took their farewell dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newkirk and family on Sunday. Mr. Seals was formerly from Kingston, but his native home was in Florida. His many friends will miss him.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Terwilliger of Modena were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Quick Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Van Orden spent last Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Jr., and family at Modena.

Mrs. John Denton and Gladys Coy of Modena were visitors in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin DuBois and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tamney spent Sunday at Lakeville, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dewitt have opened a road stand on the New Palts and Highland roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Palen and Miss Ida Palen are entertaining at their country home Mrs. Laura DuBois of Rome, N. Y. Miss Josephine Thompson of Brooklyn and Miss Violet Smith of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Haak have returned from a two weeks' motor trip to Canada. They also visited Niagara Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Haak secured an Essex car while away.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Peterson both have employment at the Thayer Hotel at West Point. Mrs. Peterson is telephone operator and Mr. Peterson drives the bus for the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend Wilklow have returned from a trip to Boston, Mass., going by way of the Mohawk trail and returning over Jacob's Ladder.

J. P. Linacre has a force of men completing the house of Morgan K. Coutant on Excelsior avenue. Some of his men are remodeling the home of Mrs. Edward McLaurie on Water street. Bruyn C. Deyo has three of Mr. Linacre's men working on the Howard Eltinge place.

The new garage on the property of A. B. Bennett, Oakwood Terrace South, was recently completed.

Mrs. Peter A. Black has presented to the trustees of the Senate House Association the Bible brought by her ancestor, Simon LeFevre, the New Palts patentee, to this country.

Anton Myers and friends from Marlborough motored to Kingston and spent one night there.

Fred Yorks hauled a number of loads of coal to the county farm last week.

Thomas Dewey of Libertyville entertained city boarders with music Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week.

A crowd of gratifying size saw the parade, soon after two in the afternoon, when New Palts began its celebration of the Glorious Fourth.

Banners and music combined with gorgeous uniforms from Kingston and the less spectacular but cooler and more comfortable dress of the New Palts participants. The Kingston Excelsior Hose Company and band wore red shirts, with black caps and trousers. The American Legion Fire and Drum Corps were even more resplendent in gilt helmets, red coats, yellow trousers and high black boots. The New Palts Fire Department were in white uniforms with flowers carried by the officers. Sullivan Shafer Post were in uniform, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and Rangers in khaki. The line was led by Irving Kortright, Jr., on his pet pony. After the parade the crowd repaired to the ball grounds on the Normal campus for the game between the New Palts Fire Department and the Gardiner A. C. Gardiner made a run during the first inning, after which the score saw-sawed to a tie of 7-7 at the end of the ninth inning. Then another inning was played with the result of 7-8 in favor of Gardiner.

The pitchers, Michel for New Palts and Ackert for Gardiner, were about even in ability. The game was over on the part of New Palts. During the game music was played at intervals by Kingston Excelsior Hose Band. The game was further enlivened by a shower that came on during the second inning. A good many people went home. The band gave a concert in the shelter of Tamney's porch. Then the shower stopped and the game was played to a finish. The holiday crowd was the largest seen at a New Palts ball game in a long time. The New Palts Fire Department have never yet trimmed Gardiner but the All-Stars have and hope to again in a game booked for the near future. In the evening it did not rain. Instead, a glorious sunset flamed in shades of silver to fiery rose from above Mountain Rest, at about eight o'clock, when the block dance began at the Library Square. Dance music was furnished by the Kingston Excelsior Hose Company Band, which occupied a stand under the west windows of the Huguenot Bank. The dancing crowd was a large and gay one. Many gorgeous uniforms were seen among the dancers. Late in the evening fireworks sent up from the Coe lot near the Normal School finished the celebration in a blaze of glory.

Miss Lucile Coddington is spending her vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Coddington, on South Chestnut street.

Mrs. Daniel Hasbrouck is convalescing from her recent illness.

STATE FAIR GROUNDS MADE BEAUTIFUL BY BUILDINGS, FLOWERS

Agricultural Exposition Has Picturesque Setting for This Fall

With an increased program of educational features, more permanent buildings added to the present fine brick structures, and beautification of the grounds by flower beds, shrubs, and hard surface roads, the 85th annual New York State Fair at Syracuse this fall will give the public an exposition of a greater scale than ever before. This dates this year are from August 27 to September 1.

One of the much needed new buildings increasing the facilities of the State Fair on a permanent basis is the new Museum for housing relics of agriculture, some of them in use over 100 years ago. The historical development of agriculture may be traced by these pioneer implements which have been assembled during the past few years. So much value and interest is attached to these relics that the new Museum is being erected and it will be ready for the fair this fall.

Other buildings now being planned in the development of the fair program on a permanent basis. The new exhibit building will be started this year and the cornerstone will be laid during the fair this fall.

An Indian village with stockade and cabins as now seen in Indian villages, where agriculture is practiced to some extent, will provide a new feature depicting the habits and practices of the Indians on State reservations.

The State Fair's agricultural departments housed in durable permanent structures, means so much to the agriculturally inclined citizen, that suitable grounds may be depended upon, regardless of the weather. This was not true some years ago before the plant of permanent brick buildings began to be developed into what now represents an investment of about $2,000,000.

The State Fair grounds contains 240 acres which have been developed into spacious lawns, well laid out streets, beautiful flower plots, and trim, light brick buildings with plenty of room to display the State's finest products of food and shop in a most effective manner. All of the livestock and poultry are cared for in permanent structures.

The large Coliseum, one of the most recently completed, seats 7,000 people and is large enough for a circus. It is used during the day for judging livestock and horses. The horse-pulling contest is also conducted in this building each year.

The grandstand, club house and stalls for race horses complete a plant that is one of the best in the country. Light colored brick is used in all of the newly constructed buildings and they present a beautiful appearance in keeping with the splendid displays of the finest products produced in the State.

Salt Industry Display

A new exhibit serving to perpetuate the salt industry, which contributed so much to the early industrial history of the State, will be presented at the State Fair this fall. Space is being provided for it in the Manufacturers and Liberal Arts building.

Salt vats and covers, such as were used in the solar process of the manufacture, will be shown as well as kettles used in the boiling of salt. Numerous prints secured from the State Museum will give an idea of the history of salt making in Central New York.

Indian Village at State Fair

An Indian village with stockade and cabins is being built for exhibition at the State Fair this fall. The display will feature Indian customs such as are now seen in Indian villages where agriculture is practiced to some extent and it will depict the habits and practices of the Indians on the State reservations.

P. O.-City Defeat The West Shore

Through out, 16-9, by the West Shore the Postoffice-City players made their first defeat and beat the Railroaders, 5-3, in a well-played game of ball at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening. Both teams played smart, especially in the pitcher's box. Nine Railroaders were left stranded on the bases, while the P. O.-City team had eight who could not reach home.

Bush, for the West Shore, and Robins for the P. O.-City, were the opposing pitchers, and both were hit through the game.

Larry Williams took the honors for the P. O.-City. He added three hits to his batting average, two of which were good for two bases. Left Bruhn also got three hits, all singles.

The Postoffice-City team started the scoring in the third inning. Robins, Schwab and Bruhn hit singles which netted two runs.

A single by Bruhn, a walk to Wheeler and a two-base hit by Johnson gave the combination team two more runs in the fifth inning. The Railroaders could do nothing until their half of the fifth, then they gained two. A. McGuire and McAuliffe each singled. B. McGuire was safe on a fielder's choice, McAuliffe being put out at third, and Lay sent both runners with a triple to left field.

The combination team scored one more in the sixth and the Railroaders one in the seventh.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By William J. Chipman, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Whenever the Cardinals set themselves for a leap into a long lead and a merry laugh at their field, something always seems to happen. It remains a good bet that the eagerly sought mathematical certainty will be reached in both major circuits about mid-September, but this National League race has a way of hanging on.

Fresh from three beatings in Pittsburgh, the runner-up Giants sailed into St. Louis and became the third place club through the simple expedient of losing the first game of four to the home entry while the Reds were trimming Brooklyn. And when Jim Bottomley hit his twentieth home run with two on and helped the Cards to four runs against Larry Benton in the first inning yesterday, the stampede seemed to be in earnest.

Benton Taken From Box. Benton was removed from the box—the first time he had been taken out of a starting game in eighteen appearances this season—and Young Bill Walker, the Denver recruit, was exposed to the St. Louis attack. Bill started as if to complete Benton's job in the way Larry started it. He filled the bases on passes in the second round, and the Cardinals hastily formed another reception committee to welcome the runs over the plate.

Walker, however, so changed his tactics that not one Cardinal got past third base on him through the rest of the afternoon. The great bats of the St. Louis sluggers accounted for just one hit among them in the eight innings Major pitched, while the Giants were pecking away at Messrs. Reinhardt, Hald and Johnson for just enough runs to win by 6 to 4.

Cincinnati slid back into third place by losing to the Robins, 4 to 3. Old Bill Doak suddenly found himself rid of lumbago as Bancroft and others did some smart hitting behind him. Peter Joseph Jablonski started his first game for the Reds, but was unfortunately enough to oppose Doak at his best.

The Cubs took another from the Braves, 4 to 2, and the Pirates nosed out the Phillies, 3 to 1, in a game in which Donie Bush used two pitchers—Brame and Hill.

In the American League.

The American League continued at the even pace into which it settled some ten days ago when the Yankees decided to loiter along for a while until more strenuous efforts seemed to be necessary. The champions got another even break, losing the first to the Tigers, 4 to 2, as Ken Hollaway and Elam Van Gilder outpitched George Pipgras and Wilcy Moore, and winning the second, 6 to 5.

Waite Hoyt won his twelfth game of the season in the second engagement, but Heb Pennock had to rush to the box in the ninth to put down a Detroit uprising which all but tied the score. George Herman Ruth's 33rd home run was the ultimate margin by which the Yankees won. It came in the seventh inning with Gibson in the box and nobody on base.

The Athletics got only an even break against the White Sox, and failed to gain—as it makes any difference now—while the Red Sox and the Indians won close games from the Browns and the Senators. Slim Harris turned in his best effort of the season to trim Dan Howley's crew, 4 to 3, while Reese's third error enabled the Hudlin to shade Hadley in a nip-and-tuck duel at Washington, 2 to 1.

Laziness Called Reason for Mechanical Progress

Oxford, England.—Lecturing to Universities congress, Professor of the College of Birmingham university, Burman, of Birmingham university, told his hearers that "science is going to put into our hands the possibility of a heaven on earth."

"The only limits to what we can do lie within ourselves," he said, "but I venture to think that unless the human being makes up his mind which way he wants to go this science, instead of being a blessing will be a curse."

"Science is cutting down the hours of labor. The work of the future will be done in the most comfortable conditions for about five hours each day. Laziness is the reason for all the mechanical developments. The human frame as we see it today is incapable of any serious labor."

SNAKE EXPERT GETS SOME ODD SPECIMENS

Makes Study of Some of Deadliest Reptiles

New York.—Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the Bronx zoo, returned to New York recently after some weeks at Tela, Honduras, where he studied the blue, green, and yellow snakes in the American. He brought back stories of extracting poison from living tarantulas, or yellow-bellies, and tropical rattlers; of expeditions made through territory infested with howling monkeys, manatees, crocodiles, and reptiles of all sorts; and of taking moving pictures of the noxious jungle life.

He also brought the approach of the summer "Tivares," which is due in New York in a few days. In the hold of this ship are two large yellow-bellies, two tropical rattlers, two coral snakes, several harmless "tail-walkers" of coral snakes, vine snakes, five green whips, snakes, eight or ten giant lizards, and some tree toads that sound like rattling machines.

Whipnakes are curious. All the reptiles were alive when Doctor Ditmars supervised their removal to the ship at Tela. He himself went from Tela to Florida and traveled north from Miami by automobile, studying wild life of the seaboard while en route.

The strange specimens he is bringing to New York in the Tivares will go to make the reptile house at the Bronx zoo bigger and better. Of all these reptiles the whipnake is, perhaps, the most curious. Doctor Ditmars said. It is seven feet long, and less than a finger's breadth in diameter. The vine snake, he said, is mildly poisonous, while the giant toad—ten inches from stem to stern—exudes a noxious saliva that acts like a local anesthetic on whosoever is bitten. Doctor Ditmars said he got some of this poison on his finger. He put his finger in his mouth, and his tongue was benumbed for some time.

The reptile that is an imitation of the coral snake, according to Doctor Ditmars, plays upon its appearance to make a living. It is nonpoisonous and slightly larger than the coral snake, but otherwise it is a "dead ringer" for its smaller cousin. It will wriggle up to a coral snake, make friends with it, and then proceed to strangle and devour it. Such an action may be unscrupulous, according to Doctor Ditmars, but it keeps the latter content from the standpoint of snake nature.

What interested Doctor Ditmars above all was the yellow-bellied. "We had some unusual and exciting experience," he said, "and we also learned some truly astounding things. We saw snakes so deadly that a man goes blind a few minutes after being bitten. Even the bite of an infant of one of these reptiles—say, one a few days old—will cause death."

It is rare for the yellow bellied to give birth to a litter as low as fifty. Usually a litter contains of seventy-five. The baby animals are so called because of its bright yellow chin and throat. It grows to a length of eight feet. Doctor Ditmars captured eight yellow bellies on a banana plantation.

Of the tropical rattler, Doctor Ditmars said it was more deadly than its United States relative. It ejects an almost colorless poison that will paralyze the back muscles of its victim in a few minutes. Doctor Ditmars saw many of these rattlers in pits.

Doctor Ditmars told of the diadem snake, a snake that is larger than the yellow-bellied, which leaps at its victim and strikes him about the knee. He said he hadn't seen a diadem snake himself, but that Dr. William H. Walker had.

While in Honduras Doctor Ditmars took 5,000 feet of film, thus completing his moving picture study of poisonous snakes and serums. He told of motoring through eighteen miles of jungle in ten hours to a lagoon filled with manatees and crocodiles. Monkeys howled at the automobiles. The roads were so bad that the occupants of the cars were afraid to move forward in the dark without first exploring the way on foot with coats, shirts, or trousers soaked in gasoline for flares. One automobile hit a stump and had to be abandoned and the other repaired.

Speakers at State S. S. Convention

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 12 (AP).—The New York State Sunday School association has announced a partial list of speakers for the state convention to be held here October 5 to 12. Among the outstanding leaders in the field of religious education who have already accepted invitations to participate in the program are: Dr. Walter S. Atherton, dean of the School of Religious Education, Boston University; Dr. Martin A. Brigham, former governor of Pennsylvania and now president of Juniata College, Huntington, Pa.; Dr. Frank M. McKibben, dean of the department of religious education, University of Pittsburgh; Dr. Charles W. Brewster, general secretary of the Sunday School Board, United Brethren Church; Miss Elizabeth Harris, elementary superintendent, Missionary Education Movement, New York city; and Dr. Daniel Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union.

Is He Proud of You?

What a glowing, happy feeling to know you can give someone the thrill of pride! In this exacting age, with standards constantly rising, it requires faultless grooming. But how well worth the time! One of the greatest helps I have found to lend the "knowing touch" to a smart appearance is my powder base, Youth Cream. It gives your skin the perfect smoothness of chiseled beauty. This stamps you knowing the art of attracting.

I give credit for the discovery of Youth Cream to France, where I have always gone in search of the ultra in cosmetic art. Just a bit of this delightfully fragrant cream smoothed over your face after cleansing gives your powder the air of "being at home." It's all just part of your skin. Get Youth Cream at any toilet counter. It comes in two types—Cold and Vanishing—several sizes.

CAR DRIVER TO WEAR HANDCUFFS YEAR

Most people object strenuously when handcuffs are applied to their wrists, but D. D. Warner of Los Angeles doesn't mind them a bit. He is so indifferent to a set of "bracelets" that he is going to have one around his wrist for a whole year. That is not all. The veteran automobile stunt driver will have the second cuff attached to the steering wheel of his car. A chain five feet long will afford him the opportunity to move around a bit. The handcuffs will be sealed with lead not to be removed until the year is completed. A radio will be carried in the sedan, which is constructed for sleeping inside, to supply entertainment for the visit to various cities in the United States.

ROAD RULES FOR MOTOR DRIVERS

All Operators Should Practice What They Preach, Says Commissioner.

"Practice what you preach," is a good rule for automobile drivers to follow, according to E. Austin Daughman, Maryland motor vehicle commissioner.

"If, when driving, one discovers a glaring fault in the operating habits of 'the other fellow,' one would immediately analyze one's own habits to see if one does not sometimes indulge in the same violation, much of benefit toward safety would result; vastly more improvement in conditions would accrue than through just laying the blame on the other fellow and letting it go at that," he said, in urging motor vehicle drivers to be sure to first "remove the beam from their own eye" before discussing the note in "the other fellow's."

Blame Other Fellow.

"Don't make it a habit to blame 'the other fellow' until one is sure one is not at times guilty of the same type of operation," says the commissioner.

"If, when persons are inclined to criticize 'the other fellow' they would only stop for a moment and make a searching analysis of their own methods of operating a car, and apply the rule obtained thereby to an endeavor for their own improvement, in an honest effort to place their driving habits above fair criticism, accident prevention would be almost automatic in its accomplishment."

"Just as long as one attempts always to lay the blame on the other fellow and let it go at that, nothing will be achieved. On the other hand should every one endeavor to develop a spirit of fair play, an immediate improvement would be effected."

Is Critic Free?

"In listening to discussions where the 'other fellow' is condemned one cannot but wonder if the person doing the criticizing is always free from the same type of mistakes. Does he, when late for an appointment, 'step on it' and take a chance here and there? Does he, confronted with an emergency, assume the prerogative of keeping going under all conditions? Does he, when trailing a sedately moving vehicle, become irritated and cut out of line regardless of traffic conditions? Does he fail to slow down at intersections? Does he have a false sense of security engendered by many years of driving experience that makes him feel justified in driving in a manner which he would condemn in 'the other fellow'? Does he give the pedestrian an even chance to cross the highway in a dignified and safe manner?"

Cause of Crashes

Inattention continues to be one of the principal causes of automobile crashes, according to leading authorities on the subject. The "dream" driver, who devotes too much attention to his charming companion and too little to the highway is a potential casualty. The driver who turns his head to address a guest on the back seat is headed for the crash.

Tighten Rules to Prevent Jaywalking

Pity the poor jaywalker in Paris.

Under a new police edict, pedestrians are forbidden to cross the street except by the shortest possible route, and only with the traffic. It is reported by the United States Department of Commerce.

Vehicular traffic also is regulated. For the first time, automobiles must stop before trolley stops and let passengers get on and off cars.

Improvised Long-Handled Jack Adds Big Leverage

A broomstick, used as shown in the accompanying illustration, makes a long-lever auto jack out of an ordinary short-handled one. All that is necessary to do is to drill a hole

Broomstick Bolted to Jack Handle Gives Motorist Considerable Leverage.

In the end of the jack handle, fasten a metal strip to the end of the broomstick and bolt the two together. The broomstick should be of such length that it can readily be stored in the car and, as it is fastened to the jack handle by means of bolts and a thumb-screw, it is quickly detachable to facilitate storage of the equipment.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

AUTOMOBILE ITEMS

Don't drive at night without a tail light burning.

There were just as many careless drivers in the old days, but, you see, the laws have changed.

California motor vehicle registration of 1927 was about 5 per cent of the nation's registration.

The state of Illinois is credited with the longest mileage of concrete highways. There are 3,501 miles chartered.

Not receipts from gasoline taxes in California last year were $22,407,083, California leads all other states in tax returns, with Ohio second.

It is claimed that Scottish children are bolder than American children, and especially in arithmetic. However, well known that cars can figure ten gallons of gas more rapidly.

Church Banners

Banners or flags in the Christian church date from the time of Emperor Constantine. In the beginning of the fourth century, Constantine saw in a vision the cross upon a banner. When he awoke he had such a banner made and it was carried before his troops.

SHOT TO DEATH REFUSES TO NAME HIS ASSAILANT

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12 (AP).—John G. Moriarty, former Democratic supervisor and reputed bootlegger and gambling house operator, was shot and fatally wounded this morning in a downtown saloon.

Moriarty, who was wounded in the stomach, refused to name his assailant or to divulge the motive for the shooting when he was questioned at a hospital before he died. Police, however, were seeking Robert Danahy, nephew of the proprietor of the saloon.

EXCELSIOR BAND CONCERT AT CORDIS HOSE TONIGHT.

Excelsior Hose Company Symphony Band will give a free concert tonight at Cordis Hose Company engine house on Delaware avenue. The concert will be from 8 until 10 o'clock. The public is invited. Rehearsals of the band will hereafter be held in the gym of the Salvation Army on North Front street. The use of the new quarters has been granted by Captain Robert F. Rainbow. This change has been brought about by reason of the engine house being too small for rehearsals since the membership of the band has been increased. The next rehearsal will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock.
